

WHAT KIND OF CLUB PLAYER DO YOU REALLY WANT TO BE?

REGULAR OR ELITE?

An Elite player is driven to improve her game, while a regular player improves her social network.

Who do you want to learn your fundamental and advanced technical skills from? An Elite player wants to learn from the best because she knows experience is the best teacher. An Elite player wants to play for a club that has trained a player who is CURRENTLY ranked #6 in the United States in kills per set, and #7 in the United States in points per set in Division I volleyball. Why? So she can get the technique she needs to break that record.

How do you pick your club? An Elite player knows the qualifications of her coaches.

What level of experience does your coach possess? Division I, II, III, Junior College, High School or none? Does it measure up to your goals and dreams? Can your coach train you to be the best athlete possible?

What exactly are your coaches experienced in? Is it Volleyball, Athletic Training, Functional Movement, Olympic Lifting? An Elite Player knows all these elements are necessary if she wants to continue to be Elite at the level beyond high school.

If you are thinking about using the beach game to hone your current skills and develop new ones, who would you rather learn the beach game from? An ex-indoor player or indoor college coach, OR an ex-AVP player who was ranked in the top 50 in the country as a full time pro, lead the AVP tour in digs at the inception of the statistic, and has competed with and against multiple Olympic gold and bronze medalists?

At Elite Volleyball Club we hold our coaches to a higher standard, so our Elite players can set the standard. Do you have what it takes to be Elite? Don't you want to find out?
